

Presentation Title : Second Harvest – From the Farm

Bio

Emily Owen was raised on a Manitoba farm and has built her career in agriculture, working in commodity trading and supply chain management before joining Second Harvest. Married to a potato farmer, she has both personal and professional ties to the industry and understands the challenges farmers face. At Second Harvest, Emily partners with growers to ensure surplus produce is rescued and redirected to feed people instead of going to waste. She is passionate about supporting farmers while strengthening food security across Canada.
